Dr. Michael Gill Named Virginia PTA Superintendent of the Year

ASHLAND, Va. – The Virginia PTA has named Hanover County Public Schools' Superintendent Dr. Michael Gill as the 2018 Superintendent of the Year.

Presented annually as part of its Power Partners program, the Virginia PTA selects a superintendent who demonstrates a genuine commitment to helping every child maximize his or her potential by engaging and empowering families and communities to advocate for all children.

"I am very grateful to have been selected for this award that is representative of the hard work of so many. The strong partnership with our PTAs, families, and community is vital to our students' continued success. We are a direct reflection of the community we serve, and Hanover County Public Schools is thriving because of the high levels of parent and community engagement and support that we have enjoyed for so many years," said Dr. Michael Gill, Superintendent.

Sharon Abernathy, past president of the Hanover County Council of PTAs and current Virginia PTA secretary, nominated Dr. Gill for this award. Abernathy said, "We value Dr. Gill's strong leadership and genuine willingness to partner with the PTA. His unwavering commitment to education in Hanover County is evident in all that he does and greatly assists the PTA in achieving our mission of helping all students reach their fullest potential."

Dr. Gill has served as the Superintendent of Hanover County Public Schools since 2015. During his tenure, he has fostered a collaborative relationship with the Hanover County Council of PTAs to further advance student achievement by encouraging greater family and community involvement. The Virginia PTA will present the award to Dr. Gill during its Central Regional Summer Leadership Training in July.
